

I almost died...

Are you okay, Chisato?

Both of them treating me with kindness... friends... perhaps?

Belle and the strap that was attached to my bag...

and a lone girl who is locked up there.

"Abandoned school building warehouse" In this place, unapproached by people, there are many discarded items.

She agreed to become her "friend", however

Another girl who by chance visited this place was asked if she wants to become her "friend".

And then there's she... the one who made me into a "friend"...

Her mood seems different today... What's up with her?

Come on, Himeri...

was different from what is normally considered.

what she calls "friend"

I can hear everything. My highness of spirits is not artificial.

T-that's not it! Perhaps...

As expected being in high spirits all the time wears her down?

Y-you should've said it earlier!

This is a story about trials and tribulations of a girl who has been shrunk in size.

Please don't sit on a pin cushion, you're getting in the way.

or so I thought before.

Such things as shopping for somebody who is locked up...

Let's go shopping!

...it's decided.

What?

This is abandoned schoolhouse's
shopping district:

Hallway Passage

We have arrived.

Well, I'm off to look for the things
I need!!

W... why is there
even a shopping district in the abandoned schoolhouse...

Was the spell incomplete, I wonder?

Which reminds me, why can't she speak?

Hah! Are you saying my spell made a mistake!

What are we shopping for in the first place?

Oh my, Himeri, what brings you here today?

She's probably a rabbit-girl! And rabbits don't make noises, do they?!

That is preposterous! Take a look at these ears.

I'm thinking a cute button or something.

Ornament to use for making Strap-chan's clothes.

Ah, it's Himeri.

Sure is lively in here.

I wonder if she would make clothes for me...

Oh, that.

She immediately started playing stupid!

My, my, she sure is a shy little doll!

She's still smiling while saying this...

Now, don't put your own words in people's mouth!

...making a face like this, I should probably make clothes for Chisato-san too.
